

Bugs & Ants

BY CHARLOTTE RYSLEV

Inspiring creatures

An ant in Bangkok sowed the seeds of our brand new jewelry concept. The first collection is focused on the ant, the fly and the spider. In future collections even more precious and crawling bugs will be introduced.

Beauty is not always an immediate impression

I prefer to work with insects that not necessarily give an instant impression of beauty. At first glance they appear annoying and maybe slightly scary. But given a closer look, they also unfold that strong and fascinating appearance, perfect for a long lasting beautiful piece of jewelry says designer Charlotte Ryslev.

Old news?

Throughout history Goldsmiths have taken an interest in insects. So we have to admit that there have been many before us. But never mind - it is a long time ago and our version of precious insects is brand new.

Sterling silver and gold plated sterling silver

Our first collection is made of sterling silver and gold plated sterling silver and consists of earrings, necklace and bracelets.

Environmental considerations

In the production of Bug & Ants jewelry, we focus on working with producers and suppliers who strive for a high level of environmental consciousness.
